EUA FORMS TEAM TO ASSIST CLIENTS ACCESSING STIMULUS FUNDS

MILWAUKEE – Eppstein Uhen Architects (EUA) has announced the formation of a team to assist public organizations and private companies navigate the federal government’s American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 and the State of Wisconsin’s Office of Recovery and Reinvestment.

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA) was signed into law by President Obama on February 17, and allocates billions of dollars of targeted spending that will have a considerable impact on municipalities, school districts, health care and housing, as well as other sectors. In anticipation of ARRA, Governor Doyle created the State’s Office of Recovery and Reinvestment, which is designed to direct dollars specifically allocated to the State of Wisconsin.

“We understand that many organizations have projects that would benefit from funding, but they don’t know where to begin – or they simply want to get their ideas into design so they can be better positioned to start construction earlier,” EUA Executive Vice President Rich Tennessen explains. “Our knowledgeable team and partnerships can help them though the process. In addition, the depth of our architectural resources and our many engineering partners give us the ability to get projects ‘shovel-ready’ quickly, which is a critical consideration in funding approval.”

EUA’s Recovery and Reinvestment Team is led by Tennessen and project manager Ed Ross. For more information, go to www.eua.com/resources/recovery, or contact Rich Tennessen at (414) 291-8111 or richt@eua.com.
