KEVIN BROICH JOINS EUA'S HEALTHCARE STUDIO

MILWAUKEE — Eppstein Uhen Architects (EUA) is pleased to welcome Kevin Broich, AIA, as the newest member of our healthcare team.

Kevin brings EUA more than 25 years of healthcare architecture and program management experience. He works with clients throughout the Midwest using evidence-based and lean design principles to develop patient-centric facilities that have long-term viability and efficiency.

Kevin comes to EUA from HDR, an Omaha-based architecture firm that recently closed their Milwaukee office in a nationwide consolidation. Kevin's clients have included Columbus Community Hospital, Appleton Medical Center, Medical College of Wisconsin and Waukesha Memorial Hospital, among many others. He has a well-earned reputation for great communication and strong project leadership.

"We are very fortunate to have a healthcare leader with Kevin's reputation and experience join our team," says EUA President Greg Uhen. "With Kevin and the other experienced, trusted architects we've added to our team in the last several years, EUA has created one of the best healthcare architecture teams in the Midwest."

Over the past decade, Eppstein Uhen Architects has carefully hired architects, planners, interior designers and code specialists with a variety and depth of health and wellness experience.
